A Great Nineteenth-Century Pennsylvania Jurist

1. [American School, 19th Century].

[Read, John Meredith (1797-1874)].

[Portrait of John Meredith Read]. Philadelphia, c.1815. 25" x 20" (image size).

Oil on canvas in ornate nineteenth-century gilded wood frame. Some minor nicks and chips to frame, gilding slightly dulled, otherwise fine. $3,500.

* Read was elected to the Pennsylvania House of Representatives in 1822 and 1823 and served as City Solicitor of Philadelphia from 1830 to 1833. He was appointed District Attorney of the Eastern District of Pennsylvania in 1837 and held the office until 1845. Read became Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in 1858 and Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in 1872. Read gained an international reputation for the depth of his knowledge, eloquence, and masterly arguments in the courtroom. Active in politics, Read was an early supporter and organizer of the Republican Party. This portrait belonged to the Philadelphia Bar Association. Founded in 1802, it is the oldest association of lawyers in the United States. Its library, where this portrait was last displayed, was renamed the Theodore F. Jenkins Memorial Law Library in 1967. "Both Alike Have Gain'd the Public Scorn"

2. [Arnold, Benedict (1741-1801)].

[Eden, William, 1st Baron Auckland (1745-1814)].

The Loss of Eden, And Eden! Lost. London: Printed & Publish'd... by W. Hinton, 21 December 1785.

8-1/4" x 12-1/2" hand-colored etching (image size) above eight lines of verse, attractively mounted and matted. Margins trimmed (with no loss to text), light even toning, a few minor stains to margins, a few negligible tiny spots to image. A good impression with vivid colors. $1,250.

* This is a negative appraisal of a distinguished politician who served terms in the English and Irish Parliaments, was Joint Vice-Treasurer of Ireland and President of the British Board of Trade. (The Auckland Islands of New Zealand are named after him.) In 1785 he was appointed Envoy to France on a mission to negotiate commercial treaties. The print denounces this appointment. It claims Eden is unfit because he had a history of using his offices for personal gain at the nation's expense, that he was, in effect a traitor. It depicts Benedict Arnold, in military dress, receiving Eden with open arms. Arnold is shouting "Liberty!"; Eden is holding a freshly-inscribed sheet inscribed with that word. In his pocket are papers marked "Commish.n to America," "£6,000 per annum" and "Commerc'l Negotiator to France." Inscribed above the men is the quote "NB every man has his Price. Sr. Rbt Walpole's Politicks." The verses begin: "Two Patriots (in the self same age was born,) And both alike have gain'd the Public scorn." Oil Portrait of the Legendary Trial Attorney Melvin Belli

3. [Belli, Melvin [1907-1996].

"Dexter."

[Portrait of Melvin Belli]. [San Francisco?], 1987. Oil on Canvas, 30" x 40," signed "Dexter." Very good condition, glazing free of cracks. An interesting item. $950.

* The work of an amateur artist, possibly a friend or client, this portrait hung in the office of the legendary trial attorney Melvin Belli. Known as "The King of Torts" and "Melvin Bellicose," he was known for his colorful personality, innovative use of graphic evidence and expert witnesses, important class-action cases on behalf of consumers and famous clients, such as Jack Ruby, the Rolling Stones, Jim and Tammy Faye Bakker and Zsa Zsa Gabor. He won over $600,000,000 in judgments during his legal career. Order This Item

The Essence of the Law

5. Cheesebrough, G.R. [1936-1993].

Obedientia Est Legis Essentia (Obedience is the Essence of the Law). N.p.: Circa, 1980. 18" x 24" color lithograph, glazed and matted in a handsome 20" x 26" frame. Signed and numbered by artist. A few minor scratches and nicks to frame, otherwise fine. $200.

* From a series limited to 999, this number 218. Cheesebrough was highly regarded for his whimsical caricatures of celebrities, professionals and amateur sportsmen. Order This Item

Final Destination of Executed Convicts

6. Cole, Benjamin [fl. 1700-1767], Engraver.

The Surgeon's Theatre in the Old Bailey, c. 1760. 8" x 13" copperplate engraving, handsomely matted and glazed, margins trimmed closely, image mounted on board. Negligible light toning to margins, negligible faint crease to right side of image. A nice copy in a handsome frame. $250.

* This engraving depicts the front elevation of the original home of the Royal College of Surgeons. From 1752 to 1832 death sentences for murder in Great Britain stipulated that the condemned person's corpse be "dissected and anatomised" for the benefit of medical students shortly after the execution. This is why the Old Bailey had a surgeon's theatre. Hogarth's "The Reward of Cruelty," The Four Stages of Cruelty, Plate 4, is a satirical depiction of a dissection in this building. The Rotten Boroughs

7. Doyle, John [1797-1868].

The Last of the Boroughbridges. [London]: Published by Thomas McLean, March 7, 1831. 11" x 13" Hand-colored lithograph. Some toning to margins, a few miniscule spots to image, colors vivid. $350.

* Doyle moved English caricature from the ridiculous, grotesque and sometimes bawdy style of Thomas Rowlandson and James Gillray to the more witty and genteel manner developed further by later cartoonists, such as those associated with Vanity Fair. Doyle's pictures appeared anonymously in the London Times and a series of books, Political Sketches, between 1830 and 1851 under the signature H.B. They were commentaries on recent events and were sometimes accompanied by explanatory essays. This image is a commentary on Parliamentary efforts to eradicate the last of the "rotten boroughs." Also called "pocket boroughs," these were small towns with tiny (and easy to bribe) electorates that were used by a patron to gain undue influence within the House of Commons. 1820 Engraving of Furnival's Inn

8. [Engraving].
[Inns of Chancery].

North View of the Interior of Furnival's Inn. London: Published by Robert Wilkinson, 27th September 1820. 10" x 13" copperplate engraving, image size 12" x 8," handsomely matted and glazed. Light toning to margins, image fresh. Handsome. $250.

* Engraved by "Dale," this engraving depicts a front elevation. Furnival's Inn was an Inn of Chancery attached to Lincoln's Inn that was founded in 1383. Sir Thomas More was a reader at this Inn; Dickens rented rooms there in 1834 to 1837, the time when he was writing the Pickwick Papers. Order This Item

Satirical French Courtroom Images

9. [France].

L'Incidente.

[And]

La Sentence.

N.p.: De L'Editrice P.V., c. 1900. Attractively glazed and matted 13" x 8-1/2" colored lithographs in identical handsome 21-1/4" x 16-3/4" wooden frames, small brass plaques to center of bottoms. Light toning to margins, images vivid. $1,250.

* A pair of rather grotesque, and very funny, images of a trial in a French court. Though garbed in eighteenth-century dress, these prints appear to be from the early 1900s. Order This Item

A Fine Caricature of Erskine
as a Revolutionary Avocat by Gillray

10. Gillray, James [1756/57-1815].

[Erskine, Thomas, First Baron Erskine (1750-1823)].

L'Avocat De La Republique. London: Hannah Humphrey, 21 May 1798. Reissue. London: Thomas McLean, 1840. Attractively glazed and matted 10" x 7-1/2" colored lithograph in handsome 18" x 15-1/2" wooden frame, small brass plaque to center of bottom. Light toning to margins, image vivid. An attractive piece. $500.

* Second issue. Plate 7 from the series French Habits. Gillray, a British caricaturist and printmaker, was famous for his political and social satires. Most of his work was published from 1792 to 1810. French Habits is a 12-plate folio depicting leading members of the Whig Party as leaders of France's revolutionary government. Impressive Portrait of Chief Justice Taney

11. [Healy, George P.A. (1813-1894), After].

[Taney, Roger Brooke (1777-1864)].

[Portrait of Roger Brooke Taney]. 40-3/4" x 33" (image size). N.p., n.d. $6,500.

Oil on canvas in ornate nineteenth-century gilded wood frame, plaque reading "Rodger [sic] Brooke Taney/ Nat 1813-Ob 1864 / Chief Justice of the United States 1836-1864" to head of frame. A few small nicks and chips to frame, gilding slightly dulled, otherwise fine. $6,500.

* Taney held many state and federal political and legal positions and became chief justice of the United States Supreme Court in 1836, a post he held until his death in 1864. As chief justice, he is known for the notorious Dred Scott decision (1857), which ruled that a slave who had resided in a free state or territory was not entitled to his freedom and that African-Americans were not and could never be citizens of the United States. It also invalidated the Missouri Compromise of 1820, which prohibited slavery west of Missouri and north of latitude 36°30.' This portrait belonged to the Philadelphia Bar Association. Founded in 1802, it is the oldest association of lawyers in the United States. Its library, where this portrait was last displayed, was renamed the Theodore F. Jenkins Memorial Law Library in 1967. "His Office Shelves With Parish Laws are Grac'd, But Spelling Books and Guides Between Them Plac'd"

12. Hogarth, William [1697-1764], After.
Cook, Thomas [c.1744-1818], Engraver.

A Woman Swearing Her Child to a Grave Citizen. Copperplate engraving by Thomas Cook after a painting by William Hogarth. London c. 1795-1822. 19-1/4" x 21" image size 11-3/4" x 14," copperplate engraving. Attractively mounted and matted. Negligible light toning and dampspotting to margins, image notably fresh. $250.

* A fine example of Hogarth's satirical work, this engraving is captioned with twelve lines of verse describing the scene. It depicts a pregnant woman pleading with a seated justice of the peace to order the "rich old lecher" at the centre of the print to acknowledge his paternity and provide for the unborn child. (The books on the shelves are: The Complete Justice and The Art of Spelling; a just-consulted Law of Bastardy sits on the justice's table.) Hogarth never produced a print of this work during his lifetime. Cook's was the first. A skilled engraver, Cook played an important role in the preservation of Hogarth's legacy through his Hogarth Restored: The Whole Works of the Celebrated William Hogarth (1795 and later editions through 1822), which is the source of this plate. "Give Me My Seals and Be Off!"

13. H[ood], T[homas], Presumed Author.

Ejection & Symptoms of Rejection! No. 4. London: Published by S.W. Fores, 41 Piccadilly, c. 1832-34. 15-1/2" x 11-1/2" hand-colored lithograph in 20-1/4" x 16-1/2" hinged matte. Light soiling to matte, white areas lightly toned, colors vivid. $350.

* Possibly the work of a Thomas Hood, this print is in the style of John Doyle [1797-1868], the leading English caricaturist of the 1830s to 1850s. It is commentary on the work of the 1832 Royal Commission into the Operation of the Poor Laws, which drafted the Poor Law Amendment Act. Passed in 1834, it created the system of laws and workhouses described by Dickens. Order This Item

"That Scar Was Won by a Slave"

14. Kemble, E[dward] W[indsor] [1861-1933].

"Look!" He Cried, "And Bless the Sight, For that Scar was Won by a Slave." [New York], September 1887.

Attractively glazed and matted 10-1/2" x 8-1/2" pen-and-ink drawing in handsome 16" x 14-1/2" wooden frame. A few minor nicks and scratches to frame, a few tiny spots to matte, light uniform toning to image. $1,850.

* An illustration for "De Valley an' de Shadder," A Story by the Macon, Georgia author Harry Stilwell Edwards [1855-1938] published first in The Century Magazine (January 1888, p. 476) and reprinted in Two Runaways and Other Stories (New York: Century Co., 1889, opposite p. 192 with the caption "See, If I Speak Not the Truth!"). The depiction of African-Americans in Edwards's stories of the Old South are what one would expect. In some of his work Kemble also employed the same deplorable stereotypes. But Kemble is also known for his sympathetic depiction of African-Americans in his work for Mark Twain and other authors. In many cases his work stood in contrast with the stock-racist stories he illustrated. "Look!" He Cried is a case in point. It captures the dramatic moment in the story where a lawyer (General Robert Thomas) proves the good character of a former slave (Ben Thomas) accused of murdering a drunken, "low-browed, vicious-looking negro" by revealing how Ben sustained wounds after Pickett's Charge at Gettysburg when he carried to safety the slain body of his master, who was General Thomas's brother. The passage reads: "See if I speak not the truth!" He tore open the prisoner's shirt and laid bare his breast, on which the silent splendor of the afternoon sun streamed. A Great ragged seam marked it from left to right. "Look!" he cried, "and bless the sight, for that scar was won by a slave in an hour that tried the souls of freemen and put to its highest test the best manhood of the South."

Thomas Nast Caricature of "Boss" Tweed

16. Nast, Thomas [1840-1902].

[Tweed, William M., "Boss" (1823-1878)].

Can the Law Reach Him? - The Dwarf and the Giant Thief. New York: Harper's Weekly, January 6, 1872. Attractively glazed and matted 15" x 10" woodcut in handsome 24" x 30" wooden frame, small plaque to center of bottom. Light rubbing to frame, light even toning to background of image. An attractive piece. $500.

* This is one of Nast's famous editorial cartoons from Harper's Weekly. An infamous figure in New York City history, Tweed exploited his position as a political leader to amass immense wealth and power. He was a symbol of corruption and the target of urban political reformers. One of these was Nast, who chronicled Tweed's activities in a series of cartoons in Harper's Weekly from 1870 to 1873. Some of the greatest editorial cartoons of the nineteenth-century, and important models for later cartoonists, they played a key role in Tweed's downfall. Order This Item

[Peale, Rembrandt (1778-1860), After].
[Tilghman, William (1756-1827)].

[Portrait of William Tilghman]. Philadelphia, c. 1815. 29" x 24" (image size).

Oil on canvas in ornate nineteenth-century gilded wood frame, small plaque reading "William Tilghman/ Chief Justice of Penna. 1806-1827/ Obit Aril 30th, 1827" to head of frame. Some minor nicks and chips to frame, gilding slightly dulled, otherwise fine. $6,000.

* William Tilghman was a politician and jurist in Maryland and Pennsylvania. He was a member of the Maryland Assembly from 1788 to 1790, and of the Maryland Senate from 1791 to 1793, Chief Judge of the U.S. Circuit Court for Pennsylvania from 1801 to 1802, President Judge of Court of Common Pleas for Philadelphia District in 1805 and Chief Justice of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, 1806 to 1827. Tilghman ran unsuccessfully for Governor of Pennsylvania as a Federalist in 1811. This portrait belonged to the Philadelphia Bar Association. "His Famous Wig Composed Entirely of Split Hairs and Adorned with the Ceremonial Crimson Tape"

18. Robinson, Boardman [1876-1952].

Mr. Justice Precedent. [New York, 1914]. 21" x 15-1/2" gouache image on 26" x 19-1/2" sheet, image signed twice and inscribed by Robinson, caption in pencil below image, most likely in another hand, laid down on illustration board. Image in 30-1/2" x 24" wooden frame, glazed. Light soiling, a few minor stains and four crop-marks to margins outside of image, which could be covered with a matte, image fine. Several minor scuffs and nicks to frame. A unique item relating to a notable trial. $4,500.

* This piece was created to illustrate "Leaden Footed Justice in New York State," an article that appeared in the Special Feature Section of the New York Tribune on Sunday, March 1, 1914. The caption reads: "Mr. Justice Precedent wearing his famous wig composed entirely of split hairs and adorned with the ceremonial crimson tape." The caption refers to the protracted nature of the Becker-Rosenthal Murder case, which began on October 7, 1912, restarted on May 2, 1914 and finally concluded after a series of procedural events in 1915. The case involved a group of corrupt police officers led by Charles Becker who ran a protection racket on illegal casinos. Becker hired gangsters to kill a casino owner, and rival gangster, who was threatening to expose the racket. A breathtaking example of police corruption, the investigation and trial was front-page news in New York for months. In the end Becker was sent to the electric chair at Sing Sing. (This was the first time a police officer received the death penalty). The case lived on for several years in the popular imagination; it is mentioned, for example, in The Great Gatsby (1925). Robinson, the creator of this illustration, was a distinguished artist, illustrator and cartoonist. A native of Nova Scotia, he studied art in Boston and completed his training in Paris at the Académie Colarossi and the École des Beaux-Arts, both in Paris. "Mr. Justice Precedent" shows his affinity, acquired in Paris, for the work of Daumier, Forain and Steinlen. Robinson produced work for several newspapers and periodicals. He created "Mr. Justice Precedent" when he was an editorial cartoonist for the Tribune, a position he held from 1910 to 1914. The piece is signed twice, the second signature is part of a mostly illegible (and undated) inscription to an attorney.

Masters of Rhodesia and South Africa

25. Stuff (Assumed to be Pseudonym of Henry Charles Seppings-Wright [1850-1937]).

Empire Makers and Breakers: A Scene at the South Africa Committee, 1897. Supplement to Vanity Fair, November 25, 1897.

13-1/2" x 19-1/2" Color lithograph, attractively matted and glazed in recent wood frame with gilt inside border and black outside edge. Photocopy of accompanying Vanity Fair essay and Certificate of Authenticity affixed to rear. Image vivid, clean and free of creases and tears. A well-preserved copy of a scarce item in a handsome frame. $450.

* A superb portrayal of British pride when the Empire was at its zenith, this image relates to the deliberations of the South African Committee at the close of the Second Matabele War, 1896-1897, which consolidated British control of Rhodesia (present-day Zimbabwe). The most notable figure in this image is Cecil Rhodes, the Prime Minister of the Cape Colony and an ardent imperialist, who stands in the center of the image with a glass. The other men are, from left to right, Sir Richard Webster, Henry Labouchère, Sir William Harcourt and Joseph Chamberlain. As the map in the background indicates, the committee is discussing its plan to push into the Boer states, most notably Transvaal and Orange. This action triggered the Second Boer War, 1899-1902, which introduced the concentration camp and scorched-earth tactics and ended with British domination of South Africa. Vanity Fair was published weekly from 1869 to 1914. It is best-known today for its caricatures of notable people and satirical depictions of current events. With few exceptions these were produced by a series of artists under pseudonyms, most notably "Spy" and "Ape." Approximately 2,400 caricatures were published in all, mostly as single pages. Vanity Fair also published 21 special numbers with double-page prints. "Empire Makers and Breakers" was originally issued in one of these. The prints were also issued individually. The absence of a central vertical crease indicates that our copy is one of these. The identity of "Stuff" has never been determined, but he is generally believed to be Henry Charles Seppings-Wright. Order This Item

Watercolor Caricature of Sir Edward Sugden

26. [Sugden, Sir Edward (1781-1875)].

A Chancellor in 1832!. 7-1/2" x 11" watercolor on board, attractively matted. Great Britain, Possibly Ireland, 1835?. Toning, a few minor waterstains, small inkstain near bottom right corner, otherwise fine. $1,250.

* Possibly intended as the basis for a lithograph, this cartoon depicts a drunken Lord Sugden, wig askew and clutching a table for balance. He is addressing the Bench: "My Lord, (hiccup) this Sir Edward Bug--no, damn it, I Mean Sir Edward Sug-hiccup) den-this Bug-Sug-Bug! My Lord, I beg pardon, I'm rather & & &." There is a quote from Shakespeare below the image: "It fitteth not a Noble thus to plead!" Sugden, lawyer, judge and conservative politician, was Solicitor General of Great Britain in 1829-30, Lord Chancellor of Ireland in 1835, then from 1841 to 1846, and Lord Chancellor of Great Britain in 1852. He is wearing barrister's robes in this caricature, which indicates the period in his career between 1831 and 1835, when he practiced as a barrister and sat in the House of Commons. The caricature appears to be a commentary on his role as a leading opponent of the Reform Bill of 1832, which made him a prominent figure in British politics. The artist refers to Sugden as Chancellor, which leads us to date the image to 1835, the year of his Irish Chancellorship and a time when he was famous for his opposition to the Reform Bill. Image of Furnival's Inn by Noted Engraver

27. Sutton, Nicholas.

Furnival's Inn, c. 1725. 13" x 18" copperplate engraving, handsomely matted and glazed. Image notably fresh. $400.

* This engraving, which has a caption near the top margin, offers a bird's eye view of the courtyard of Furnival's Inn, its buildings and the surrounding neighborhood. The appearance of the Inn and the clothing and vehicles of the figures places the date of this image in the early decades of the eighteenth century. Sutton was highly regarded for his topographical engravings. Many were created for later editions of John Stow's Survey of the Cities of London and Westminster, which is probably the source of this plate. Furnival's Inn was an Inn of Chancery attached to Lincoln's Inn that was founded in 1383. Sir Thomas More was a reader at this Inn; Dickens rented rooms there in 1834 to 1837, the time when he was writing the Pickwick Papers. Order This Item

Eighteenth-Century Engraving of the Chapel of Lincoln's Inn

28. Vertue, George [1684-1756].

Lincoln's-Inn Chappel, Being Erected at the Expende of the Hon.ble Gentlemen of this Inn by a Plan of Mr. Inigo Jones [London]: S.n., 1751. 9-1/2" x 15-1/2" copperplate engraving, handsomely matted and glazed, margins trimmed closely, image mounted on board. Light toning to margins, negligible horizontal fold line, tiny fold line to lower right-hand corner, image fresh. $250.

* This engraving depicts the ambulatory and stairs of the chapel. The left side has a large cartouche describing the chapel and its history. Vertue was an English engraver and antiquarian. His notebooks are a valuable source for students of English art of the first half of the eighteenth century. They were the basis of Horace Walpole's Anecdotes of Painting in England (1761-1771). Sir John Soane's Museum Concise Catalogue of Drawings (online version), Drawer 59, Set 1.
