How to Live the Life of a Proper Gentleman

1. [Allestree, Richard (1621/2-1681)].

Contemporary paneled calf, rebacked in period style, raised bands to spine, hinges mended. A few minor nicks and scuffs to boards, moderate rubbing to extremities, joints starting at ends, corners bumped and somewhat worn, early armorial owner bookplate to front pastedown. Light toning to text, light foxing and minor stains in places, brief recent annotations in light pencil to margins of a few leaves, faint early owner signature to title page. $350.

* Later edition. Allestree was a Royalist churchman and provost of Eton College. First published in 1662, _The Gentleman's Calling_ is a guide to the proper behavior of a gentleman. It was intended to serve as an antidote to the corruption of gentlemanly traits by Restoration culture. An instant classic, it went through several editions and issues into the eighteenth century. As indicated by the image of Lady Justice on the allegorical title page in our edition, it considers, indirectly, proper legal behavior along with other forms of conduct. _English Short-Title Catalogue_ R3415. A Great Nineteenth-Century Pennsylvania Jurist

2. [American School, 19th Century].
[Read, John Meredith (1797-1874)].
[Portrait of John Meredith Read]. Philadelphia, c.1815. 25" x 20" (image size).

Oil on canvas in ornate nineteenth-century gilded wood frame. Some minor nicks and chips to frame, gilding slightly dulled, otherwise fine. $3,500.

* Read was elected to the Pennsylvania House of Representatives in 1822 and 1823 and served as City Solicitor of Philadelphia from 1830 to 1833. He was appointed District Attorney of the Eastern District of Pennsylvania in 1837 and held the office until 1845. Read became Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in 1858 and Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in 1872. Read gained an international reputation for the depth of his knowledge, eloquence, and masterly arguments in the courtroom. Active in politics, Read was an early supporter and organizer of the Republican party. This portrait belonged to the Philadelphia Bar Association. Founded in 1802, it is the oldest association of lawyers in the United States. Its library, where this portrait was last displayed, was renamed the Theodore F. Jenkins Memorial Law Library in 1967. The First American Edition of Blackstone's Commentaries in a Superb Period-Style Binding

Handsome period style calf by Phil Dusel, raised bands, lettering pieces and blind-stamped volume numbers to spines, blind tooing to board edges, endpapers renewed. Moderate toning, light foxing, faint dampspotting and inkspots in places, early owner signatures to preliminaries of Volumes I, III and IV, paper repair to title page of Volume II and chip to fore-edge of Leaf Q2 (pp. 125-126) in Volume IV with negligible loss to text. An appealing copy in a superb binding. $12,500.

* First American edition. Blackstone's Commentaries, a synoptic review of the English legal system, is the most influential publication in the history of modern Anglo-American law. It was especially popular in America, where it was the standard introductory legal textbook into the late nineteenth century and was the primary, or only, book studied by hundreds of self-taught lawyers, such as Abraham Lincoln. The first multi-volume book printed in America, Bell's edition, a reprint of the fourth London edition, 1770, is a landmark in the history of American publishing. Our set contains the two tipped-in advertisement leaves, for An Interesting Appendix (Volume III) and Ferguson's Essay on the History of Civil Society (Volume IV), that are often missing in copies of this set. Volume IV also includes a 22-page subscriber list of 839 men, who ordered 1,557 sets. This impressive group included John Adams, John Jay, John Dickinson, several colonial governors and many other leaders of colonial America. Sixteen subscribers were signers of the Declaration of Independence who went on to serve as members of the Continental Congress. Eller, The William Blackstone Collection in the Yale Law Library 80. Handsome Copy of an Important (And Very Rare) American Edition of Blackstone

Tucker, St. George [1752-1827], Editor.
Blackstone's Commentaries: With Notes of Reference to the Constitution and Laws, Of the Federal Government of the United States, And of the Commonwealth of Virginia. In Five Volumes, with an Appendix to Each Volume, Containing Short Tracts upon Such Subjects As Appeared Necessary to Form a Connected View of the Laws of Virginia As a Member of the Federal Union. Philadelphia: Published by William Young Birch, and Abraham Small: Robert Carr, printer, 1803. 4 volumes in 5 books. Volume 1 in two parts. 4 tables (3 folded); Volume 2 has "Table of Consanguinity" and 3 different folding "Table[s] of Descents." Title pages in all volumes identical, with volume numbers omitted; volumes numbered on "Contents" pages and on the binding. Complete. Octavo (8-1/4" x 5-1/4").

Recent period-style calf, blind fillets to boards, red and black lettering pieces and blind fillets to spines, blind tooling to board edges endpapers renewed. Moderate toning, light foxing in places, notes in contemporary hand to a few leaves in Volumes I, Part I and Volume III. A strikingly handsome set. $20,000.

* First edition. Tucker's Blackstone is a key resource for understanding how Americans viewed English common law in the years following the adoption of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. Based on his lectures at the College of William and Mary, Tucker interprets Blackstone's often anti-democratic viewpoint in the American context. "Tucker's Blackstone became a standard reference work for many American lawyers unable to consult a law library, especially those on the frontier. It is impossible to measure its impact on American law, but it is clear that sales were strongest in Virginia, as could be expected; it was also widely used in Pennsylvania and South Carolina" (Bryson). More recently, Tucker's Blackstone has been cited in numerous constitutional cases by the United States Supreme Court relating to "original intent." Centers of Boards Emblazoned with the Arms of the British East India Company to

7. [British East India Company].
Charter of the 8th of January, 1753; Being the Twenty-Sixth of King George the Second; Establishing Courts of Justice, And a Military Force in the East Indies [caption title]. [London, c. 1758]. 50 pp. Folio (14-1/4" x 9-1/2").

Contemporary calf, gilt fillets to board edges, large gilt arms of the British East India Company to centers of boards, raised bands and lettering piece (reading "Charter. 1783") to spine, marbled endpapers. Light rubbing and a few minor stains and shallow scuffs to boards, moderate rubbing to extremities, boards just beginning to separate, but secure. Light toning to text, somewhat heavier in places, light soiling to upper margins of a few leaves. $5,000.

* The Honourable East India Company, or British East India Company, was established in 1600 as a trading company. It became the engine that drove the expansion of the British Empire into India and other parts of Southeast Asia. The Charter of 1753 marked the company’s transition from a strictly commercial enterprise to a de facto government of British colonies in India. The other two charters reflect this transition of power from the crown to the company. They are: Charter of the 19th of September, 1757, Being the 31st of George the Second, Granting to the Company a Moiety of the Plunder and Booty, Taken from the Nabob of Bengal" and "Charter of the 14th of January, 1758, Being the 31st of George the Second, Granting to the Company booty and plunder, Taken in the East-Indies." Our volume includes an index. There are to be a few versions of this book with different sets of charters. Ours is identical to a copy at the University of Pennsylvania. It is not listed in the ESTC. Pickett's Bibliography of the East India Company, Entry 860, cites it as part of a compilation of charters without a title, conjecturally dated 1772, of which one copy is known, at the British Library.

The "Negro of 'Inflooence''

8. [Broadside].
[African-Americans].
[North Carolina].

Moderate toning, negligible chipping and light staining to upper right corner, image not affected. $1,850.

* A scathing racist attack against Judge Francis D. Winston, the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor of North Carolina. He is seen riding in a coach alongside a grotesquely caricatured George Henry White, Republican congressman from North Carolina, 1897-1901, a symbol of Reconstruction and the last African-American congressman to survive the beginning of the Jim Crow era. The coachman is depicted in a similar manner. Winston is accused, in a letter supposedly written in 1890 and transcribed here, of seeking White's influence with African-American voters to win his judgeship. Winston asks White to promote his candidacy and suggests the "possibility of riding the district with you." Hull was a civic leader, politician and artist in Ashville, N.C. Convention Nationale.

5'5" x 23" broadside, mounted on linen, with some marginal restoration, folded into six section, tipped into good late-nineteenth century, half-cloth over marbled boards, gilt title to spine. Light rubbing, soiling and a few minor stains to boards, moderate rubbing to extremities with some wear to spine ends and corners, light soiling to spine, front hinge starting, partial crack between front free endpaper and hinge holding broadside, small owner bookplate to front pastedown, small shelf label (?) tipped-in to front free endpaper, some toning, light soiling and foxing to broadside. A remarkable item. $1,500.

* Decree no.865. Signed at the foot by Desce, Sécretaire-Générale, 27 Mai 1793. The creation of an army founded on the principles of the French Revolution was one of the many great changes wrought by the National Convention. Popularly known as the Army of Year II, it was a fighting force under civilian control of 650,000 men consisting of volunteer soldiers, eventually supplemented by mass conscriptions (the levée en masse) and professional officers drawn almost exclusively from the middle classes. It became one of the greatest armies in history. Intended to be posted in a conspicuous place, and thus available to all who could read, this massive broadside contains the army's penal code and code of criminal procedure. They were by far the most liberal codes of their time. The format of our broadside also reflects the Assembly's commitment to transparency and desire to transmit legal knowledge as broadly as possible. This text was also issued as an octavo-sized book. Will a New Tax be Necessary to Finance the Louisiana Purchase?

10. [Broadside].
[Louisiana Purchase].

*Signed in type by "Americanus," this broadside discusses the cost of the Louisiana Purchase. The writer argues the difficulty, if not impossibility, of paying France without a special tax due to the revenue lost to the Embargo Act. The table described the proportionate cost to each New Hampshire county of the $15 million bill. The author also warns of the threat of European war. No copies listed on OCLC. An Unrecorded Broadside?

11. [Broadside]. [Manslaughter].
Thompson, Thomas.

Account of the Awful Death of Patrick M'connor, A Heuer in the St. Hilda Pit, South Shields, By Being Struck with a Pick, By Thomas Thompson, A Putter in the Same Pit, on Thursday, October 19, 1837.

13-3/4" x 6-1/4" broadside, bottom 1-1/2" folded, pasted to 13-1/2" x 8" sheet. Text in single column below headline. Light toning, bottom corners cropped (with no loss to text), a few minor chips and tears to sheet. A well-preserved copy. $1,250.

* A quarrel took place in St. Hilda's mine pit between Thompson and M'connor over a cart that resulted in M'connor's death. His body was taken above ground where it was found that "the blow had been given with considerable force, as it had entered the right breast, and penetrated to the bowels, up to the very handle of the instrument..." Thompson, an 18-year-old, was found guilty of the manslaughter. This appears to be an unrecorded broadside. No copies located on COPAC or OCLC. Order This Item

  Rawlin, Stephen.
  Hardy, Thomas.

  A True and Particular Account of a Shocking Murder, Committed on the Body of William Richardson, with an Iron Poker, by Two Pitmen Named Stephen Rawlin and Thomas Hardy, At Bishop Auckland, on Saturday September the 24th, 1825. Gateshead: W. Stephenson, Printer, 1825.

  13-1/8" x 6" broadside pasted to 13-1/4" x 8" sheet. Text in single column below headline. Moderate toning, minor edgewear to sheet. A well-preserved copy. $1,250.

  * The murder appears to have been the result of a brawl in a pub. A few minutes after it began, Rawlin called for help to his comrade Hardy, who smashed Richardson in the head with a large iron poker. They left Richardson for dead and proceeded home. After a long and solemn investigation, the jury returned with a verdict of Wilful Murder. The broadside indicates a pattern of similar crimes. "This is the third Murder that has been committed in the county of Durham within the last three years, under very similar circumstances, in the year 1823, Joseph Spraggon was murdered by Stanwick Newton on a Saturday night, at the door of a Public House, in Middle Rainton. In 1824, Henry Curry was murdered by Thomas Atkinson, on a Saturday night at the door of a Public House, at Birtly.- And in 1825, the above melancholy affair has occurred under the like incidents." This appears to be an unrecorded broadside. No copies listed on COPAC or OCLC.

The Only American Abridgment Published Before the Revolution

Greenleaf, Joseph [1720-1810], Editor.
An Abridgment of Burn's Justice of the Peace and Parish Officer. To Which is Added, An Appendix, Containing Some General Rules and Directions Necessary to be Known and Observed by All Justices of the Peace. Boston: Printed For, And Sold By, Joseph Greenleaf, 1773. [viii], 386, [2] pp. Includes two-page publisher advertisement. Quarto (8-1/2" x 7").

Contemporary sheep, raised bands and later lettering piece to spine, "Boston 1773" gilt-stamped to foot. Light rubbing and a few minor scuffs and stains to boards, moderate rubbing to extremities, corners bumped and somewhat worn. Moderate toning, occasional faint dampspotting, paper flaw at foot of pp. 204-204 not affecting text, early owner signature and inscription of Manessah Smith to front free endpaper and head of title page. A choice copy. $1,500.

* Only edition of the only abridgement of a legal treatise printed in America before the Revolution. Richard Burn was an attorney and antiquarian who edited the ninth, tenth, and eleventh editions of Blackstone's Commentaries. His Justice of the Peace, and Parish Officer (1755) was perhaps his most important work. Holdsworth considered it to be one of the best treatments of the subject, an opinion shared by Burn's contemporaries, both in England and in the colonies. The "best proof that his book...was accepted as the leading text-book on that topic is the number of editions through which it passed.... It deserved its success." Greenleaf explains the nature of his abridgement in the preface: "The London edition takes in the whole practice of England and Scotland, this renders it both bulky and dear. The circle of a justices business in those places is vastly extensive, and is founded chiefly on acts of the British parliament, which can never have any relation to this colony" [i]. Greenleaf also added an appendix of forms and general rules and directions for American courts. Manessah Smith [1748-1823] was a 1775 Harvard graduate. He served as a chaplain during the Revolution and later practiced law in Wiscasset, Maine. He was the founder of a legal dynasty. All four of his sons and many of his grandsons became lawyers in mid-coast Maine. Holdsworth, A History of English Law XII:332-333. Cohen, Bibliography of Early American Law 8325. [Bound with]
Clement V [c.1266-1314], Pope.
[d'Andrea, Giovanni (c.1270-c.1348)], Glosses.

Two works in one volume. Folio 13-1/2" x 9" (34 x 23 cm). Contemporary German blindstamped pigskin over wooden boards, covers with large central lozenge within rectangular line borders, embossed with 7 single stamps in circular or lozenge shape, original metal bosses at center and corners, two metal clasps, front cover with vellum title label in a contemporary hand, plain spine with raised bands and later manuscript label at head (scattered wormholes). Light soiling, a few minor wormholes, upper clasp detached. Printed in red and black, both works in double columns with surrounding glosses, rubricated throughout, some initials with marginal extensions, red paragraph marks and capital strokes. Light toning, a few stains and marginal worming to n7-06 of Decretalium, without final blank, some worming to lower margin of first signature of Constitutiones, decreasing in the second signature. Contemporary manuscript index to pastedowns, ownership inscription of the Minorite Convent, Bohemia, dated 1629 to head of leaf a1 of Liber Sextus. A strikingly handsome and well preserved volume. $22,000.

* This volume joins incunable imprints of two books from the Corpus Juris Canonici, a collective title first used in 1441. These writings are the Decretum Gratiani (1151), the Liber Quinque Decretalium of Gregory IX (1234), the Liber Septimus Decretalium of Boniface VIII (1298), the Liber Septimus Decretalium, better known as the Constitutiones Clemensis V’, or Clementinae of Clement V (1317) and the Extravagantes of John XXII (1325). Two texts were added later: the Extravagantes Communes of other popes to 1484 and the Appendix Pauli Lancellotti (1563). All of these texts were edited in 1582 in response to the reforms authorized by the Council of Trent. In this form the Corpus Juris Canonici remained in force until it was replaced in 1917 by the Codex Juris Canonici. Goff, Incunabula in American Libraries B993 (Liber Sexctus), C725 (Constitutiones). Moderate toning, minor worming to lower corner of final third of text block, light foxing in a few places, library stamp and annotations to verso of title page. A handsome copy. $1,750.

* Fourth edition. First published in 1682, the first edition was not dated), this classic layman’s guide reviews, from a Whig perspective, the principles of English law and government. It emphasizes the role of Magna Carta, Parliament and juries in the preservation of civil rights and prevention of tyranny. First published in America in 1721, it had a profound influence on several colonial readers, including the founding fathers. It was the primary source for William Penn’s Excellent Priviledge of Liberty and Property (1687), a work that inspired support for the revolution. George Mason used it when drafting Virginia’s Declaration of Rights (1776). Jefferson, who owned copies of this edition and the first edition, probably referred to it when he wrote the Declaration of Independence and the Virginia Statute for Religious Freedom. Its influence is also evident in the Bill of Rights. See Sowerby, Catalogue of the Library of Thomas Jefferson 2702 (London 1719 edition), 2703 (London 1680 edition). Latin translation by Grigorii Vasil'yevich Kozitzki. Quarto (9-1/2" x 8").

Contemporary calf, raised bands, lettering piece and black-stamped ornaments to spine, edges rouged, patterned endleaves Light rubbing, faint stains, scratches and ink marks to boards, which are slightly bowed, moderate rubbing to extremities, corners bumped and worn. Large copperplate vignettes at beginning and end of text. Light toning to text, somewhat heavier in places, faint dampstaining to margins in a few places, internally clean. A nice copy. $4,500.

* Only four-language edition, the fourth, and best, edition overall. Described by Count M.A. Korf, then director of the Imperial Library, as "The Best and Most Luxurious Edition." The Nakaz or Instruction, is a statement of legal principles written by Catherine II between 1764 and 1766. It was among her most ambitious and significant undertakings. Infused with the ideas of the French Enlightenment, and copied mostly from the work of Voltaire, Montesquieu and Beccaria, it was compiled as a guide for the All-Russia Legislative Commission convened by the Empress in 1767 to create a new code to replace the 1649 Muscovite Code. Revised in consultation with Frederick the Great and Voltaire, the Instruction proclaimed the equality of all men before the law and denounced torture and the death penalty. Unfortunately, her proposed code was never completed. Catherine's manuscript was written in French, and she later produced a Russian translation. Editions in German and Russian were published in Moscow in 1767. The book was initially banned in France because it was too liberal, which is why the first French-language edition was produced in Switzerland (with a false imprint). French and Latin editions were eventually published in 1770. Camus, Bibliotheque Choix des Livres de Droit 3301. Sopikov, Opyt Rossiiskoi Bibliografii 6456 ("best edition"). [Basel: Michael Wenssler, Not after 1480]. [126] ff. Collation: q6, a11, b-k8, l6, m-o8, p6. Leaf a1, a blank, lacking. Signature q, the table of contents, with blank q1, is bound at front as in the British Library copy. Folio 12" x 8-1/2" (30 x 21.5 cm).

Contemporary blind-stamped red-dyed doeskin, rebacked in period style, central cross and linear frame on covers with 15 repeat stamps, including man of sorrows, 'Maria' in a banner, paschal lamb, a deer, rosette and palmette, apparently not in Einbändedatenbank, raised bands and decorative blind tooling and stamps to spine, period-style replica clasps. Light rubbing and a few minor stains to boards, heavier rubbing to extremities with wear to spine ends and corners, partial crack through spine, scattered wormholes to exterior, pastedowns and leaves at front and rear of text block, minor worming to other leaves. 55-line text in single column. Light toning, slightly heavier in places, wrinkling from moisture to margins in a few places, inksots to a few leaves, brief early annotation to verso of front leaf, 1646 owner inscription of Burghausen, Jesuit college at head of first text leaf. $17,000.

* First appearing in the 1474 Rome edition of Johann Schurener and Johann Nicolai Hanheymer, the Formularium Instrumentorum is a collection of models for legal documents applicable to canon law. Developed in the second quarter of the fifteenth century, they were used in the multifarious business of the Curia. This edition was printed in Wenssler's type 124, later taken over by P. Kunne, Memmingen, and probably first cast for liturgical use. A 1480 date of purchase was noted by Baer, Bücherfreund 9 (1911), no 1, 2, 738. Goff, Insignabula in American Libraries F254. First Edition of a Classic Study of Church Patronage

22. Curtius, Rochus (Corte, Rocco) [fl. 1470-1515].

Recent three-quarter vellum over marbled boards, endpapers renewed. Negligible light shelfwear and soiling. Title page with large woodcut printer device, printed in red and black, large woodcut initial with (possibly) later coloring at head of text, woodcut decorated initials, text printed on wide-margined paper. Light toning, somewhat heavier in places, underlining and brief annotations in early hand to a few leaves. An appealing copy of a rare, handsomely printed edition.

$5,000.

* The ius patronatus is the body of laws concerning patronage by members of the church, including the granting of privileges, lands and goods. First published in 1506, the commentary of Rochus Curtius was a standard work on this subject into the seventeenth century. Our edition is remarkable for its magnificent typography and notably wide margins (title as inverted pyramid in red); remarkably broad-margined, printed on strong paper. The printer Vincent de Portonariis, de Tridino de Monte Ferrato is not stated in the colophon; he is only identified by the printer device on the title page. As a result, this imprint is often mis-attributed. OCLC locates 2 copies of our 1520 imprint, both in Germany. Not in Adams or the Universal Short-Title Catalogue. [Order This Item]
23. Damhouder, Josse (Joost) de [1507-1581].
Praxis Rerum Criminalium: Praetoribus, Propraetoribus, Consulibus, Proconsulibus, Magistratibus, Reliquisque id Genus Institutiis ac Officijis, Apprime Utilis & Necessaria. Antwerp: Ioannem Bellerum, 1570. [xxxii], 508, [64] pp. Latin text printed in double columns. 70 large woodcuts in text, 2 depict types of torture. Large armorial woodcuts at beginning and end of book. Quarto (8-1/2" x 6-1/2").

Contemporary limp vellum with yapp edges, early hand-lettered title to spine, ties lacking. Light soiling, somewhat heavier to spine, a few minor stains, moderate wear to extremities, wear to bottom edge and corner of front cover with some loss, front pastedown loose and worn, recent owner bookplate to front free endpaper, minor, gradually diminishing dog-ear to lower corners of first 16 leaves. Moderate toning to text, somewhat heavier in places, occasional, and negligible, minor dampstaining to bottom edge of text block, faint inkstains to a few leaves. An appealing copy. $4,500.

* First published in 1551, this was the first comprehensive study of criminal procedure published in northern Europe. A synthetic work drawn mostly from Roman-Dutch sources, it was based on Philip Wielant's Practycke Crimineele (1439-1519) and other earlier treatises. Published in Latin, Dutch and French, it was standard authority throughout the continent for many years. This Belgium edition from 1570 is illustrated throughout with woodcuts depicting adultery, murder, theft and many other crimes. Damhouder was an advisor to the Duke of Burgundy and a prolific author of legal and religious treatises. Dekkers, Bibliotheca Belgica Juridica 44. Order This Item
Richly Extra-Illustrated Copy of Dugdale's Origines Juridicales with 114 Added Leaves

Early nineteenth-century calf, rebacked retaining existing spine, gilt panels and blind fillets to boards, raised bands, gilt ornaments and gilt title to spine, all edges gilt, inside gilt dentelles, ribbon marker, corners mended, cloth-reinforced hinges. A few minor scuffs and light gatoring to boards, negligible light gatoring to spine, small armorial crest to front pastedown. Title page printed in red and black. Light toning to text, light foxing in places, a few minor tears to folding plates. An impressive volume. $4,500.

* Third edition. Dugdale's Origines provides a wealth of information about the sources of English law and the early history of English legal institutions, including the Inns of Court, on which it is a chief authority. It is a well-documented work: sources of manuscripts are listed, and, in many instances, the sources of the information for the printed book entries are given. Our copy is enriched with more than 100 leaves filled with copperplates, lithographs and woodcuts from a variety of sources (the latest from the early nineteenth century. These depict royalty, jurists, members of the nobility, ecclesiastical and political leaders, the Inns of Court and other significant structures. English Short-Title Catalogue R5556. 25. Eimeric, Nicolaus [1320-1399].
Peña, Francisco [1540-1612], Editor, Commentary.

Contemporary limp vellum, early hand-lettered title to spine, ties lacking. Light rubbing, soiling and a few minor stains, corners and spine ends bumped and somewhat worn, vellum beginning to crack through pastedowns, front hinge partially cracked, minor worming to rear pastedown, first two gatherings slightly loose and with light edgewear. Moderate toning to text, early private library marks to front free endpaper and foot of title page. $3,000.

* Later edition. The primary manual used by members of the Spanish Inquisition [1478-1834], the Directorium Inquisitorum circulated widely in manuscript and was first printed in Seville in 1500. Editions and translations of this durable work were issued into the eighteenth century. It outlines crimes of heresy, the errors of other faiths and such crimes as witchcraft, blasphemy, bigamy and sodomy. Also a procedure manual, it outlines denunciations, the investigation of crimes, including the use of torture, trials and punishments, including forms of excommunication. The book's second part consists of Papal documents regulating the Inquisition. Universal Short-Title Catalogue 4035319. Order This Item
An Uncommon Nineteenth-Century Law Dictionary

   Recent period-style quarter calf over cloth, gilt-edged raised bands and lettering piece to spine, endpapers renewed. Light toning to text, faint dampstaining to heads of a few leaves. A handsome copy of a scarce title. $750.

   * Only edition. "In this work the effort has been to make the definitions as short as possible, yet so clear that a man without legal education can understand them. (...) Essays or long discussions of subjects have been avoided because few have time to read such, and fewer care to, while those who have time prefer to investigate for themselves" (Explanatory Statement). This is an uncommon book. OCLC locates 29 copies, a low number for a law dictionary published at the turn of the twentieth century. This is the second (non-reprint) copy we have seen. Roma, Paolo da.

Quarto (7-1/2" x 4-1/2"). Contemporary limp vellum with lapped edges and thong ties, early calligraphic title to spine. Light rubbing to extremities, light soiling to spine, spine ends bumped, pastedowns loose. Moderate toning, faint dampspotting in places, light soiling and tiny later owner signature to title page of Falconi's Tractatus. A handsome volume containing three scarce titles. $3,500.

* The three books in this volume address clerical pensions and salaries (benefices) under canon law. Only the first title has a large Blado device, but all are otherwise identical, each with a small fleur-de-lis woodcut and similar placement of city and date on the title pages. It is apparent that all three were set by the same printer. Although these titles appear to have been issued together, they are often found separately. Roma's Tractatus appeared at auction in 2012. OCLC locates a copy at UCLA. Brigham Young has a volume containing the other two. OCLC locates 1 copy in North America with all three: at the Library of Congress. A Vivid Contemporary Depiction of the Execution of Guy Fawkes and His Co-Conspirators

28. [Fawkes, Guy (1570-1606)].
Keller, Georg [1576-1640].
Rechtfertigung der Vornehmsten Verrather In Engellandt. [Frankfurt], 1606.

10" x 8" copperplate engraving, "G. Keller 1606" at foot of image, trimmed to edges, attractively mounted and matted. Moderate even toning, a few negligible dust spots, three faint vertical fold lines. An attractive, well-inked impression. $1,500.

* Led by Guy Fawkes, the Gunpowder Plot was a failed attempt by a group of Catholics to assassinate King James I by blowing up the House of Lords during the State Opening of Parliament in 1605. The plot was foiled when Fawkes was discovered with a cache of explosives beneath the House of Lords. Fawkes and his co-conspirators were executed in 1606. This vivid image by Keller, the notable Frankfurt artist and engraver, depicts the execution of Fawkes and his fellow conspirators. It appears to have been modeled on an image by the Dutch engraver Claes Jansz Visscher [1587-1652].

Reed, E[dward] T[ennyson] [1860-1933], Illustrator.

Moderate rubbing and light soiling to slipcase, one of the bottom joints cracked through, fragment of shop label to front. Light soiling and some edgewear to cards, some toning to instruction sheet, a few minor tears along fold lines. $3,500.

* Named after the English suffragist Emmeline Pankhurst [1858-1928], Panko was produced by the Women's Social and Political Union (WSPU) to raise funds for its activities and publicize its goals. The cards were illustrated by E.T. Reed, best-known for his illustrations for Punch. They reflect some of the key moments and characters in the Suffrage movement, such as Pankhurst wearing her WSPU sash, a Suffragist being escorted to a police station, a group of Suffragists trying to gain entry to the House of Commons, a Suffragist declaring a hunger strike in jail and an image of the attorney Christabel Pankhurst [1880-1958], Emmeline's daughter, addressing the viewer in her robes. London: Printed for the Societie of Stationers, 1613. [viii], 149 ff. Folio (11-1/4" x 7-1/2").

Contemporary limp vellum with yapp edges, gilt panels with central arabesques to covers, gilt fillets, ornaments and faint early hand-lettered title to spine, silk ties. Light rubbing to extremities, spine ends bumped, hinges cracked, text block loose, later armorial morocco bookplate of James P.R. Lyell and more recent bookplate of John Sparrow to front pastedown. Light toning to text, slightly heavier in places. An attractive copy with an appealing provenance. $4,500.

* First edition. Like Bacon, Finch recognized the need for a book of Institutes in the manner of Justinian. Well-arranged and clearly written, the NOMOTEXNIA was both a landmark in the history of English legal publishing and the standard elementary textbook before Blackstone’s Commentaries. As Holdsworth observes, it also influenced "the form and arrangement of Blackstone’s Commentaries; and, through Blackstone’s Commentaries, the form and arrangement of the chief institutional book of English law at the present day." Our copy had two notable owners. John Sparrow [1905-1992], was a distinguished bibliophile, barrister, essayist and Warden of All Souls College. Oxford. As Nicolas Barker wrote in The Warden's Meeting: A Tribute to John Sparrow, he was "first and last, a great, even a very great, collector of books." By profession a solicitor, James Patrick Ronaldson Lyell [1871-1948] was a significant bibliographer and collector of printed books and manuscripts. Holdsworth, A History of English Law V:400. First Selden Edition of Fortescue's De Laudibus

31. Fortescue, Sir John [1394?-1476?]
   [Selden, John (1584-1654), Editor].
   [Mulcaster, Robert, Translator and Editor].

Contemporary calf with later rebinding, blind rules to boards, blind fillets along joints, gilt-decorated raised bands, gilt ornaments and gilt title to spine, endpapers renewed. Light rubbing, corners bumped and somewhat worn, armorial bookplate to front pastedown, front hinge partially cracked. Light toning to text, somewhat heavier in places, faint stains and light edgewear to a few leaves. Early owner signature in tiny hand to head of title page, brief early annotations to a few leaves. $1,250.

* First Selden edition. De Laudibus Legum Angliae, a history of English law, was written for the instruction of Edward, the young Prince of Wales. Cast in dialogue form, it demonstrates that the common law was the oldest and most reasonable legal system in Europe. It also compares the common and Roman systems and extols the superiority of a constitutionally limited monarchy. De Laudibus was written around 1470 and first printed in 1567. Selden's was the first critical edition of this work, perhaps the first critical editions of an early English legal work. Aside from their value to the elucidation of Fortescue's text, Selden's notes interrogate aspects of Fortescue's text and offer rich insights into jurisprudence and the nature of the English constitution. As noted by Christianson, his conclusions disputed "the concept of immemorial custom argued by [Sir John] Davies and the anachronistic historical interpretations displayed by [Sir Edward] Coke." It was reissued in 1660, 1672 and 1737 with various additions. "Fortescue was a favorite among the old lawyers, and will be read with profit in modern times by those who are interested in the origin and progress of the Common Law."

Two Scarce Titles on Roman Law Bound Together

32. Gentili, Scipione [1563-1616].
[Bound with]
Doneau, Hugues [1527-1591].
[Gentili, Scipione, Editor].

Octavo (6-1/2" x 3-3/4"). Contemporary vellum with lapped edges, early hand-lettered titles to spine. Light soiling, spine ends bumped, light wear to corners, vellum beginning to crack through pastedowns, residue from bookplate to front pastedown, crack in text block between front endleaf and title page of De Jurisdictione. Moderate toning to text, contemporary annotations in a few places, later annotations dated 1811 to endleaves, recent owner signature to front endleaf. $1,650.

* Jurisdictione, second and final edition; Opuscula, first edition. This volume collects two scarce titles on Roman law. Gentili, a brother of Alberico Gentili, was an eminent law professor and legal scholar. Held in high esteem all over Europe, his fame probably surpassed that of his brother during his lifetime. As indicated by its title, De Jurisdictione is a study of jurisdiction, more specifically, legal authority and power. Its first edition was published in 1601. Doneau, or Donellus, was a French humanist jurist and scholar. An antagonist of Cujas, his only real peer, he applied the latest philological methods to Roman law and attempted to organize its texts in a systematic fashion. Derived by a manuscript owned by Gentili, Doneau’s Opuscula is a collection of writings. Most of these deal with the Codex Justinianus. Later editions were published in 1609, 1766 and 1768. OCLC locates 2 copies of the 1613 edition of Jurisdictione in North America (Harvard Law School, Yale Law School), 2 copies of the 1613 edition of Opuscula (Boston College Law School, Stanford University). [viii], 199, [1], [44] pp. With a 5 pp. subscriber list. Quarto (7-1/2" x 6").

Contemporary calf, rebacked in period style with gilt-edged raised bands and contemporary lettering piece, upper corners and hingesmended. Some minor nicks and scuffs to boards, light rubbing to extremities, corners bumped. Light toning to a few leaves, interior notably fresh. A handsome copy of a scarce title. $4,500.

* First edition. (It was reissued in London in 1756.) Derived from a manuscript and originally published anonymously, this was the first treatise devoted exclusively to evidence. As Holdsworth notes, "[i]t long held its place as the chief book on this topic; and Blackstone is loud in its praises." Indeed, Blackstone recommends it in the section on evidence in the Commentaries for a fuller treatment of the subject. Nineteenth-century pebbled cloth, paper title label to spine. Corners bumped and lightly worn, fading to spine, light wear to ends, armorial bookplate of Edwin Freshfield to front pastedown, brief annotation to verso of front free endpaper by Anthony C. Taussig. Title printed within woodcut architectural border, woodcut decorated initials. Light toning to text, minor worming to lower margin at gutter. A nice copy. $2,500.

* First published in 1534, this compilation of statutes includes the infamous "Acte for the punishment of the vice of buggerie" (Chapter VI). Enacted in 1533, this statute took homosexual acts away from the jurisdiction of the ecclesiastical courts and made them capital crimes under the common law. Revoked and revised several times, the act was restored in its original form by Queen Elizabeth I, one year after its republication here. It remained in force for more than two centuries. Edwin Freshfield [1832-1918] was a solicitor in his great family law firm. Founded in London in 1743, it is now the multinational Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer. Anthony Taussig was a distinguished barrister and scholar. His collection of manuscripts and annotated printed books was acquired by Yale Law School and Yale's Beinecke Rare Book and Manuscript Library. As noted by the English Short-Title Catalogue, there are two copies bearing the date 1562. One was probably printed in 1575. Ours is a true 1562 printing, with line 4 of the title page ending "sessions." There are at least five editions of these acts published between 1535 and 1551. All are scarce. The "Most Important" Edition of De Jure Belli ac Pacis

35. Grotius, Hugo [1583-1645].

Contemporary vellum with lapped edges, faint early hand-lettered title to spine, later owner signature to front cover, edges rouged. Moderate soiling, spine darkened, some rubbing to extremities with wear to corners, pastedowns loose, chips, tears and other edgewear to endleaves. Title page printed in red and black. Moderate toning, faint dampstaining to head of text block, underlining and annotations in a few places, light soiling and some creases and edgewear to title page. $4,000.

* Second edition, the first edition in a folio format, the first edition printed in Amsterdam and the first edition with corrections and additions by the author. Ter Meulen and Diermanse say this is the "most important" of the first five editions because it contains the most authorial corrections, which made it the basis for all later editions produced in the author's lifetime. Of all his numerous works De Jure Belli ac Pacis will always be considered Grotius's magnum opus, the work upon which his reputation most solidly rests. It was "the first expression of the droit naturel, the natural law which exercised the great political theorists of the eighteenth century, and is the foundation of modern international law" (Carter and Muir). The first edition was published in Paris 1625. It was followed by a pirate edition printed in Frankfurt in 1626. The 1631 Amsterdam printing was the authorized second edition of this work. Contemporary paneled calf, rebacked in period style, raised bands, lettering piece and gilt ornaments to spines, hinges mended. A few minor nicks to boards, moderate rubbing to extremities, copperplate armorial bookplates of George Baillie to front pastedown of each volume. Title pages printed in red and black. Light to moderate toning, light foxing to a few leaves in each volume, two brief annotations to front endleaves of Volume I. A handsome set. $3,500.

* Recognized immediately as an important work, De Jure Belli ac Pacis was soon translated into the principal languages of Europe. The first English translation, by Clement Barksdale, was published in 1654 and reissued the following year. The second, by William Evats, was published in 1682. According to sources cited in the ESTC, the 1715 edition was translated and edited by Morrice with the assistance of Edward Littlehailes and John Spavan. The English editions are very interesting to compare because they have significant differences. Baillie [1664-1738] was a Scottish politician who served in the Parliament of Scotland and the Parliament of Great Britain. He held several important posts; he was Commissioner for Trade and Plantations (1711-1714), a Lord of Admiralty (1714-1717) and a junior Lord Commissioner of the Treasury (1717-1725). A New Edition. The Numbers Written by Mr. Madison Corrected by Himself. Hallowell, ME: Glazier, Masters & Smith, 1837. 500 pp. Octavo (9" x 5-1/4").

Recent period-style quarter calf over marbled boards, lettering piece and blind fillets to spine, endpapers renewed. Light browning to text, light foxing to a few leaves, light edgewear and faint dampstaining to title page and following leaf. $850.

* Later edition. With index and the text of the U.S. Constitution. Of the eighty-five essays John Jay wrote numbers 1-5 and 54, Madison wrote numbers 10, 14, and 37-48. Numbers 18-20 were written by all three. The remaining 50 were written by Hamilton. The essays aimed to encourage ratification of the proposed constitution by New York State, but were immediately recognized as the most compelling commentary on the most radical form of government the world had yet seen. Recommended to Every House-Keeper to Have One Always in the House by Him, It Being a Surer Protection to His Person, Houses, Money, Goods, And Lands, Than if He Kept a Guard of Musqueteers, Or a Dozen of Mastiffs; That Every Honest Man May Have One to Remind Him and His Family what they Ought to do in Case They are Attack'd, And May be Left as a Very Good Legacy to His Children. Newcastle upon Tyne: Printed for the Author, 1736. [xii], 72 pp. Two copperplates, one a frontispiece. Octavo (7-1/4" x 4-1/2").

Stab-stitched pamphlet bound into later three-quarter calf over marbled boards, gilt title to spine. Moderate rubbing to extremities with some wear to spine ends and corners, owner bookplate to front pastedown. Woodcut head-pieces, tail-pieces and decorated initials. Moderate toning to text, light foxing in a few places, heads of frontispiece, title page and dedication leaf just touched by trimming. A nice copy of a title rare in the trade. $1,850.

* Only edition. Hodshon, a malster and merchant, felt impelled to compile this work after he was declared bankrupt in October, 1735. Having been victimized by "the vile practices of our Law-Men", Hodshon sets out to expose their "Tricks, and I hope it will (as it is the Intent of it) open the Eyes of the People, and let them see what daily and growing Plagues they labour under. As for the honest ones, as I hope there are some that wish well to their Neighbours and Country, they never will endeavour to stifle the Design of it; but endeavour to reform the Abuses complained of." The work is dedicated to Sir Robert Walpole. OCLC locates 2 copies in North American law schools (Harvard, Yale). English Short-Title Catalogue T112534. Order This Item
First Edition of The Common Law

41. Holmes, Oliver Wendell, Jr. [1841-1935].

Original maroon pebbled cloth, blind double frames to boards, gilt title to spine, triple gilt rules at spine ends. A few minor nicks and scratches to boards, a few minor bumps and tears to spine ends, corners lightly bumped and worn, early owner bookplate to front pastedown, offsetting between title page and facing endleaf from laid-in leaf, light toning to text. $1,250.

As Friedman points out, "The Common Law was easily the most distinguished book on law by an American published between 1850 and 1900." In contrast to earlier Anglo-American jurists, and the reigning positivist ethos of the nineteenth century, Holmes proposed that the law was not a science founded on abstract principles but a body of practices that responded to particular situations. This functionalist interpretation led to his radical conclusion that law was not discovered, but invented. This radical theme is announced at the beginning of Lecture I: "The life of the law has not been logic: it has been experience" (1). Winfield observes that Holmes's "brilliant exposition, as effective on English scholarship and legal thinking as on American, of the true nature of law both as a development from the past and an organism of the present, blew fresh air into lawyer's minds encrusted with Blackstone and Kent." It went on to become a decisive influence on sociological jurisprudence, legal realism and the general development of Anglo-American law in the twentieth century.

"I Can Determine Guilt, But I Cannot Return Life"

42. [Ivanov, D., Artist].
District Safety Commission.

Light edgewear with a few nicks and minor tears to margins, colors vivid. A well-preserved item. $750.

* This bright blue poster is dominated by a large image of Lady Justice above a caption reading: "I Can Determine Guilt, But I Cannot Return Life." The white illustration and text jumps off the page. The right side of the scale depicts a crushed car with a license plate reading 5931, the left a prisoner's uniform stamped with the same number. The illustration says you will exchange your license plate number for a prisoner's i.d. number if you are responsible for a traffic fatality.

First Edition of Jacob's Great Dictionary

43. Jacob, Giles [1686-1744].

* A New Law-Dictionary: Containing, The Interpretation and Definition of Words and Terms Used in the Law; and Also the Whole Law, and the Practice Thereof, Under All the Heads and Titles of the Same. Together With Such Informations Relating Thereto, as Explain the History and Antiquity of the Law, and Our Manners, Customs, and Original Government. Collected and Abstracted From All Dictionaries, Abridgments, Institutes, Reports, Year-Books, Charters, Registers, Chronicles, and Histories, Published to This Time. And Fitted for the Use of Barristers, Students, and Practisers of the Law, Members of Parliament, and Other Gentlemen, Justices of Peace, Clergymen, &c. With Large Additions. To Which is Annexed, a Table of References to All the Arguments and Resolutions of the Lord Chief Justice Holt; In the Several Volumes of the Reports. London: Printed by E. and R. Nutt, and R. Gosling, 1729. [772] pp. Main text printed in double columns. Folio (13" x 8-1/4").

Recent period-style quarter calf over cloth, raised bands and lettering piece to spine, endpapers renewed. Moderate toning, faint dampspotting in places, faint dampstaining to lower corners of first five leaves. A handsomely bound copy of a landmark title. $1,750.

* First edition. As Cowley has pointed out, A New Law-Dictionary was both Jacob's masterpiece and "an entirely new departure in legal literature" that provided a model for several subsequent efforts. In contrast to earlier works, each entry summarizes all of the laws relating to the subject and offers extensive interpretive commentary. Obsolete terms are omitted. It was recognized almost immediately that Jacob created a highly useful legal encyclopedia that was more detailed and concise than any other abridgment of the period. An extremely popular work that went through twelve editions between 1729 and 1800, it offers unparalleled insights into Anglo-American law during the eighteenth century. 1483 Basel Imprint of the Vocabularius Iuris Utriusque in an Interesting Contemporary Binding

44. [Jodocus of Erfurt, Attributed].

Contemporary blind-stamped calf over beveled wooden boards, rebacked in period style, circular and lozenge-shaped stamps (depicting, among others, Phoenixes, fleur-de-lis, and paschal lambs) within double blind-ruled frames, raised bands to spine, clasps and corners restored, vellum pastedowns. Light rubbing and a few small nicks and small faint hand-lettered title to front board, heavier rubbing to rear board. 51-line text in Gothic type, rubricated throughout, 9-line opening initial. Light toning, occasional foxing to margins, trimming to fore-edge of first leaf with no loss to text. Light toning, foxing and occasional faint dampstining to margins, early owner inscription to front endleaf. An appealing copy in an attractive binding. $17,500.

* A work of great authority, the Vocabularius, as it is popularly known, is usually attributed to Jodocus, a jurist associated with the University of Erfurt. First published by Wenssler in Basel in 1474, it went through more than seventy editions over the following 150 years. (It had a second life as the first section of the 1559 edition of Antonio de Nebrija's Lexicon Iuris Civilis, a work that was reissued into the seventeenth century.) A useful and highly respected reference work, the Vocabularius is a collection of terms dealing with the Ius Commune taken from such late-scholastic texts as the Vocabularius Stuttgardiensis (1432), the Collectio Terminorum Legalium (c. 1400), and the Introductorium pro Studio Sacrorum Canonum of Hermann von Schildesch (c. 1330). The Magnificent Elzevier Folio Edition of the Corpus Juris Civilis

46. Justinian I [483-565 CE], Emperor of the East.
Van Leeuwen, Simon [1628-1682], Editor.

Recent period-Style quarter calf over marbled boards, raised bands and lettering piece to spine, endpapers renewed. Negligible light rubbing to extremities, corners bumped and lightly worn. Woodcut Elzevier sunrise device to title, woodcut decorated initials. Light toning to text, slightly heavier in places, faint dampstaining to upper corner of text block, several tiny wormholes to text block, some with minor loss to text, early repairs to fore-edges of a few leaves (not affecting text), brief annotations in neat early hand to some passages in the Digest, a few clean tears to fore-edge of pictorial title page touching image, small library stamp to its verso. An impressive volume. $1,250.

* First Elsevier edition. Texts in Latin and Greek. Commissioned by the Emperor Justinian in 530 CE, the body of writings known collectively as the Corpus Juris Civilis reformed, restated and preserved early Roman law. Comprising four parts, the Institutes, Digest, Code and Novels, its subsequent influence on European jurisprudence is difficult to underestimate. Renowned for its excellent typography, Elzevier's edition includes the Twelve Tables, Consuetudines Feudorum, Liber De Pace Constantiae, Epitome Feudorum and Authentica (with its later Constitutions added to the Novels). Edited by van Leeuwen, this volume is based is on Godefroy's seminal 1583 edition with additional notes by Jacques Cujas, Denis Godefroy, Antoon Anselmo and other important French and Dutch jurists. One of the largest books produced by the Elseviers, Willems notes it is "perhaps the most beautiful book to have left the Elzevier presses in Amsterdam.": Willems, Les Elzevier: Histoire et Annales Typographiques 1299. 1483 Venetian Imprint of the Institutes

47. [Justinian I, Emperor of the East].
[Accorso, Francisco (Accursius) (c.1182-c.1260), Glossator].

Contemporary half vellum over wooden boards, brass clasps and catches, "Instituta" in early hand to front board, raised bands to spine. Light rubbing to boards, heavier rubbing to extremities with some wear to spine ends and corners, partial vertical crack through center of front board, hinges cracked, a few partial cracks to text block, a few signatures loose. Printed throughout in red and black in 62-line Gothic type, large red and black printer device to verso of final leaf. Light toning, occasional faint stains, light foxing and later annotations to a few leaves, upper corner of each leaf numbered in another later hand, small wear hole (paper flaw?) to lower corner of leaf l1 (Fol. 78) with negligible loss to text. An appealing copy. $18,500.

* An uncommon quarto edition. With the Glossa Ordinaria of Accursius. Intended for students, the Institutes is an elementary treatise on Roman private law. Like its companion volumes, its subsequent influence on European jurisprudence is difficult to underestimate. It received a great deal of commentary during the medieval and early modern eras. The first significant commentator was Accorso (Accursius), a professor of law at the University of Bologna and a leading figure in the revival of classical jurisprudence. He examined every extant note and commentary when he prepared his epochal edition of the Institutes, Digest and Code. This massive effort eliminated much of the obscurity and contradiction introduced by earlier writers. His gloss on this edition, which superseded all previous attempts, was often cited as the Glossa Ordinaria or Magistralis. It remained definitive until its 1583 revision by Denis Godefroy. "That Scar Was Won by a Slave"

50. Kemble, Edward Windsor [1861-1933].

"Look!" He Cried, "And Bless the Sight, For that Scar was Won by a Slave." [New York], September 1887.

Attractively glazed and matted 10-1/2" x 8-1/2" pen-and-ink drawing in handsome 16" x 14-1/2" wooden frame. A few minor nicks and scratches to frame, a few tiny spots to matte, light uniform toning to image. $1,850.

* An illustration for "De Valley an' de Shadder," A Story by the Macon, Georgia author Harry Stilwell Edwards [1855-1938] published first in The Century Magazine (January 1888, p. 476) and reprinted in Two Runaways and Other Stories (New York: Century Co., 1889, opposite p. 192 with the caption "See, If I Speak Not the Truth!"). The depiction of African-Americans in Edwards's stories of the Old South are what one would expect. In some of his work Kemble also employed the same deplorable stereotypes. But Kemble is also known for his sympathetic depiction of African-Americans in his work for Mark Twain and other authors. In many cases his work stood in contrast with the stock-racist stories he illustrated. "Look!" He Cried is a case in point. It captures the dramatic moment in the story where a lawyer (General Robert Thomas) proves the good character of a former slave (Ben Thomas) accused of murdering a drunken, "low-browed, vicious-looking negro" by revealing how Ben sustained wounds after Pickett's Charge at Gettysburg when he carried to safety the slain body of his master, who was General Thomas's brother. The passage reads: "See if I speak not the truth!" He tore open the prisoner's shirt and laid bare his breast, on which the silent splendor of the afternoon sun streamed. A Great ragged seam marked it from left to right. "Look!" he cried, "and bless the sight, for that scar was won by a slave in an hour that tried the souls of freemen and put to its highest test the best manhood of the South." Order This Item
